What is the meaning of the CAAE logo?

Its primary mission is the development of certified Organic Production, ensuring the quality of products covered under the brand CAAE, and contributing to improve the competitiveness of the companies certified, through innovation and technological development. It also has, among its purposes, the protection of the Environment and Rural Development.

It watches over the prestige of organic products in the markets, preventing its misuse. It also promotes organic foods and its study, and produces publications and scientific material, technical or informative via different channels.

It collaborates with other entities in the transfer of knowledge and development of organic production systems globally, organizing conferences, seminars and other public events or related activities, as well as conduct studies and research for technological innovation in the sector.
